LAUSANNE CONFERENCE TURNS INTO SCRAMBLE FOR SPOILS

Except For Straits, all Questions are Commercial and Little Progress is Made Toward Substantial Peace—Keyhole Only News Route as Gouty Carzon Shouts at Deaf Ismet.

Telegraph to The Freeman.
Lausanne, Nov. 28.—The hope of establishing a permanent peace in the Near East began to dwindle today. Serious trouble is expected from both the Turks and Russians as a result of the decision of the Allies to reject the Russian demand for full membership in the conference.

Christian Rakovsky, president of the Soviet of Ukraine and a member of the Russian peace delegation, said there was no use of Russians remaining here if they were only to be "observers" while other powers made decisions that vitally affected Russia's Black Sea coast.

While the perfunctory conference continues to appoint "duck passing" sub-committees which are accomplishing little, the real conference meets in Lord Curzon's apartments where the British envoy, who is attempting the Coure cure for his gout, has long talks with the deaf Turkish envoy—Ismet Pasha—who proclaims that he has never heard of Dr. Coure.

Lord Curzon who is chief of the British delegation, shouts into the ear of the Turkish envoy while "roads of newspaper correspondents in the lobby outside press as close as they can get to the keyhole in an effort to overhear.

A great many of the delegates and sub-delegates gathered here have about given up hope that the party will be a complete success, except as a means of patching up a temporary truce between the Turks and Greeks. With the exception of the Turkish straits, all the big questions are commercial, dealing with oil, railroads and banks. There is now a wild scramble for these commercial rights in all the private meetings.

The "territory grabbers" are in session at Richard Washburn Child, the American observer, whose open door speech upset the plans to bottle up the resources of Turkey for a favored interests. Their only hope now is for another conference later on for the "carving up" of Turkey at which the United States will not be represented.

In the meantime it is a "conference of bedroom covenants" noisily arrived because of Ismet's deafness.

With the discussion of financial matters by a commission appointed to handle such questions, the Turks have formally put forward their demand for $1,000,000,000 indemnity. The Turks allege that the chief ground for this claim is damage incurred through the Greek invasion of Asia Minor.

The conference was late in getting under way. The general session was scheduled to convene until 4 o'clock. Among the latest arrivals is General Gassouin, French representative of the Standard Oil interests. In not replying to the Russian demand for complete participation in the conference, the inviting powers and their "would be most happy to admit Russia into membership on all commissions actually concerned with Russian interests." The note pointed out that the burden of proof showing that the presence of Russia is necessary upon all the conference commissions rests upon Rakovsky, who made a demand.

GIRL BRIDE TO UNDERGO TEST

Mary Barrett, who Wedded Alton Johnson in Ulster County, Continues Attendance in Walden School.

The case of Mary Barrett, the 16 year old Walden school girl, who was married on November 2 in Wallkill, Ulster county, to escape going to school, was heard in Children's Court Saturday in Newburgh. The girl was directed to be taken for examination at the mental clinic to be held on December 12 at Middletown.

The girl's husband, Alton Johnson, is 17 and was a student in the fifth grade. They were married with the consent of the girl's mother, Mrs. Eva Barrett, who aided them in securing the license. The girl has been attending school regularly since her marriage. Earl H. Barrett, who represented the girl's family, made a plea in behalf of the girl, saying the family had been persecuted because of Mrs. Barrett's brother, "Bad Bill" Monroe. He asked for the dismissal of the truancy charge. The mental examination was asked by the county agent, Miss Caroline Cuddeback.

FARM BUREAU ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Farm and Home Bureau Association will be held on Tuesday, December 5th, at Kingston. The Farm Bureau meeting will be held at the high school auditorium at 2 p. m. The speakers will be E. V. Underwood, secretary of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation, and A. L. Bibbins, manager of the seed department of the G. L. F. Exchange at Syracuse. Mr. Bibbins will speak upon the question of securing high quality of seed.

Two local men will also be on the program. They are C. C. DuMont of Ulster Park who will tell of the season's operation of the Esopus Cooperative Fruit Growers' Association, and W. W. Volght of Accord will speak on the Rondout Valley Cooperative Poultry Association and its egg marketing plans.

Three directors of the association will be elected. The terms of directors Chester Young of Nanapanoch, A. E. Jansen, New Paltz and Fred DuBois of New Paltz will end at the close of the year. The manager and the president will also present their reports and the secretary-treasurer will give a detailed financial report for the year.

The annual banquet will be held in the basement of the Fair Street Reformed Church at 6 p. m. The ladies of the church are putting on a roast beef dinner which promises to be the best banquet that the Farm and Home Bureau has held. The price of the banquet tickets is $1.00. Reservations for the banquet should be sent to the Farm Bureau office at once.

EXTENDING SCOPE OF PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

One of the most important recent industrial developments is the increasing co-operation between industry and higher educational institutions, says a statement issued by the National Industrial Conference Board, 10 East Thirty-ninth street, New York city. The most prominent of them, the so-called Antioch plan of education, is simply an extension by Antioch college into the field of industry of the cooperative plan of education that has been successfully used for some years in engineering and technical schools, notably the University of Cincinnati.

"Under the Antioch plan," the statement says, "the larger part of the students divide their time between school and practical work, the student body being divided into two groups, alternating in five week periods between college and industry."

THIS CAR'S PRICE TO DROP $5 EVERY DAY

The Ulster Garage, Ltd., reports business good in the automobile line having made ten sales in less than a week but in order to "keep things moving" in the second hand car line they have placed on sale an automobile which will drop in price $5 a day until sold. This plan of sale was started by them last fall when a number of cars were reduced in this way, the price being reduced each day $5 until someone picked up a bargain. There are disappointments in this method for many who wait too long hoping to get a car for $5 but who find someone has bought before themselves.

SKATING RINK THIS WINTER AT KINGSTON FAIR GROUNDS

The directors of the Kingston Fair Grounds have leased for the winter season of 1922-23 to John F. Roosa of Albany avenue that part of the Kingston Fair Grounds known as the baseball field for an ice skating rink. Mr. Roosa, formerly connected with the New York police department, has had a whole lot of experience in athletic events and intends to make this a proposition for the young and grown-ups, a real place of amusement conducted upon a higher scale, well lighted and orderly in every respect. It is also the intention of Mr. Roosa to have refreshments served and maintain dressing rooms for the comfort and convenience of the patrons.

From time to time he intends to have skating carnivals and professional skaters to give exhibitions. Work will be started immediately and Kingston can well feel proud of a safe and reliable place for skating without any danger whatever.

Ample space will be provided for the parking of automobiles and for those who wish to go by trolley the Fair Grounds will be found convenient, it being but a short walk from the trolley line to the skating park.

M'SWINEY GIRLS BREAK THEIR FAST

Both in Hospital Following Mary's Release and Doctors Think They Will Recover.

Telegraph to The Freeman.
Dublin, Nov. 28.—Mary MacSwiney, who was released from Mount Joy prison at the end of the 23rd day of her spectacular hunger strike of protest against the Free State government, and her sister Annie, who stood on hunger strike for 11 days, were both in the hospital today recovering from the effort of their long period of self-imposed starvation.

Attending physicians, while admitting that the health of both women had suffered seriously, said they believed they would recover. Annie discontinued her hunger strike as soon as she learned that her sister Mary had been released.

The Free State military authorities have undertaken a new drive against women sympathizers of the rebels. Forty women prisoners were brought into Dublin today from the south and southwest.

MRS. GIBSON TELLS HER STORY TO GRAND JURY

Its Hall-Mills Investigation Ends Today.

Telegraph to The Freeman.
Somerville, N. J., Nov. 28.—The last of the evidence gathered by county and state investigators of the mysterious murders on the night of September 14, when Dr. Edward W. Hall, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, were slain, was presented to the Somerset county grand jury by Special Deputy Attorney General Wilbur A. Mott, when it convened today.

The grand jury's investigation is expected to end this afternoon. Mrs. Jane Gibson, the state's star witness, was scheduled as the star witness at today's hearing.

HORSES HAD TROUBLE ON SNOWY WILLITE

The light fall of snow Monday night made things rather slippery this morning, particularly on the Willite pavement. On Broadway about 9 o'clock this morning ten or twelve horses from Vogel's exchange stables had quite some difficulty in keeping on their feet. For a good share of the time they did more skating than walking as their shoes were not yet in shape for the winter weather.

The only place one coal wagon could make any headway was on the trolley tracks which it stuck to ahead of a trolley car for several hundred yards.

Ice House Burns.

A large ice house on Schermerhorn Island, near Castleton, owned by the Baker estate of Selkirk, was damaged by fire Monday evening. The building, which had a capacity of 15,000 tons, was empty.

16 KILLED IN HUNTING SEASON

Forty Were Wounded—Accidental Discharge of Gun Caused Most Fatalities—Nine Fools Shot Men for Deer.

Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, Nov. 28.—The hunting season in New York state heaped up its dead again this year. Sixteen were killed and 40 injured hunting in this state, according to statistics just compiled by the conservation commission.

The largest number of casualties, both fatal and otherwise, resulted from the accidental discharge of a gun. Eight accidents of this nature resulted in deaths, and 17 in injuries. Twenty-two hunters were shot by their companions, through accidents, three being killed and 19 injured.

Despite the fact that each year the conservation commission urges hunters to exercise more caution, the accidents and deaths continue to pile up year after year. So long as hunting is permitted in the forests of the state there probably will continue to be accidents, but officials of the conservation commission say that something will have to be done shortly to impress upon the hunters that they must be more careful.

Nine hunters were shot in mistake for deer during the present season. Five were killed and four injured.

PRIMER MAKES POOR GASOLINE VAPORIZER

That the gasoline of today is less volatile than that of former days may easily be proved by dropping a small amount of it on a piece of paper, declares Lewis Brown of the Brown Auto Supply Company, distributor of the Master Electrical Primer in this territory.

The gasoline will stay on the paper for hours or more, he states, while six or seven years ago the same amount of gasoline dropped on paper would evaporate while you watched it.

"This problem of low volatility the Master Electrical Primer has been built to solve," he says. "Since we cannot change the gasoline, we must obtain means of vaporizing it so that it will explode on the first spark."

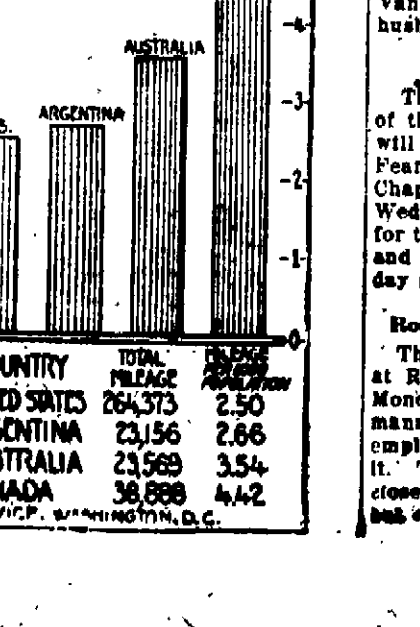

"The Master Electrical Primer takes the cold gasoline from the carburetor, draws it over a red-hot coil of wire so that it becomes a hot vapor, as dry as cigar smoke, and shoots it into the manifold where it explodes on the first spark."

Snow Covered Ground.
Monday evening the first real snow storm of the season broke over Kingston and snow fell during the night to a depth of half an inch. This morning, however, the sun and the traffic made short work of the snow in the streets.

JOSEPH CROTTY IS FINED $400

Which He Pays Under Protest—John Anderson Sent to Matteawan as Insane Criminal.

When county court convened Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Judge Fowler presiding, District Attorney Traver moved judgment in the case of The People vs. Joseph Crotty, who was found guilty the week before of having intoxicating liquors in his possession for sale.

Crotty is alleged to have sold liquors at Saugerties on July 22, 1921, in violation of the dry law. Ex-Mayor William D. Brinler, who appeared for defendant, asked that the court be as lenient as possible as he believed that defendant was not guilty in spite of the verdict of the jury and that there was a question as to whether it was the defendant or another member of the family who sold the liquor and it was a question in his mind as to whether the wrong man had not been indicted by the grand jury. After listening to Mr. Brinler's plea Judge Fowler imposed a fine of $400, the usual fine in such cases. Failure to pay the fine defendant would be confined to the jail of the county of Ulster for 400 days. The fine was paid in cash in court by Mr. Brinler who asked that it become a part of the records that the fine was paid under protest.

John Anderson, indicted by the grand jury for assault in the second degree, having attacked an inmate and the assistant superintendent of the Nanapanoch institution for defective delinquents, was ordered sent to the Matteawan institution for the criminal insane. It is alleged that Anderson, who has a long record of crime, attacked an inmate of the Nanapanoch institution with a knife and when the assistant superintendent went to the rescue he, too, was attacked. Anderson's record dates back years when he was confined to an corrective institution in New Jersey. From the Jersey institution he escaped five times. Since that he has been convicted of other crimes and has been adjudged insane on several occasions, and sent to institutions for the criminal insane. His insanity is periodical, and at times he appears to have recovered. He is considered a fit subject for the Matteawan prison and was sent there until he becomes sane.

Drs. Buckley and John G. O'Leary, who were appointed a commission to examine sanity of the prisoner, and Dr. Thayer, superintendent of the Nanapanoch institution, were examined Monday and from their testimony Judge Fowler arrived at his decision. It was the doctors' opinion that the prisoner could be treated at Matteawan to advantage.

Judgment in the cases of The People vs. Orville Purdy and Heeren camp was to be pronounced Friday at 2 o'clock, to which time court recessed. Purdy is charged with unlawful entry and Heeren camp with bigamy. Both have pleaded guilty.

WARREN HOWE DIVORCES HIS UNFAITHFUL WIFE.

Because his wife thought more of another man's little finger, according to evidence given in court, than her husband's whole soul and body, Vice-Chancellor Flesher Thursday in Jersey City, gave a divorce to Warren Howe, a former resident of Port Ewen and now a marine engineer of Weehawken, from his wife, Florence, of 396 Palisade avenue, Union Hill.

Nathan H. Prendergast, counsel for Howe, said that his client would not ask for the custody of a son, Warren, Jr., 8 years old. The vice-chancellor suggested that the evidence raised a question of the fitness of the woman to care for the boy. He made no order for the boy's custody and this leaves Howe at liberty to ask the court for the boy whenever he is ready to take him.

The evidence indicated that Mrs. Howe was dissatisfied with her husband because he did not earn as much money as she wanted. The suit was brought on the ground of desertion, but testimony indicated that Mrs. Howe is infatuated with one "Willie Martin," a butcher, and that she has also received attentions from other men and spoken with scorn and profane vulgarity about her husband. Mrs. Howe was not present. They were married in the Grove Reformed Church, North Bergen, in 1913, and separated in 1919.

Mrs. Van Vliet Home.
Mrs. Edward Van Vliet was removed from the Kingston City Hospital to her home, No. 53 Franklin street in the ambulance on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Van Vliet was seriously injured when Turk's automobile ran away down Abel street and up on the sidewalk crashing into Mrs. Van Vliet and her husband. The husband was almost instantly killed.

Parce by W. O. W. Class.
The W. O. W. Sunday School Class of the Fair Street Reformed Church will give the three act farce, "Miss Fearless & Co.," at the Bethany Chapel, Washington avenue, on Wednesday evening, December 6th, for the benefit of the Christmas fund, and entertainment of Bethany Sunday school.

Roseville Shirt Factory Reopens.
The Mark M. Koski shirt factory at Roseville will resume operation, Monday, December 4th, under new management, and will be glad to give employment to all those who reside in it. This plant has been temporarily closed through a misunderstanding, but expects to work steadily again.

Cousins to Succeed Newberry.
Telegraph to The Freeman.
Detroit, Nov. 28.—The naming of Mayor James Cousins of Detroit to succeed Truman H. Newberry in the United States senate was expected this afternoon after reports, apparently well founded, said that the governor had virtually decided on Cousins for Newberry's place.

Bishop Thornburn Dead.
Telegraph to The Freeman.
Meadville, Pa., Nov. 28.—James M. Thornburn, eighty-six, senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church in America, died here early today after a long illness. He was formerly missionary bishop in charge of all missionary work of the church in India.

TWO NEGROES HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Sheriff Kolts and Corp. Lounsbury of the State Troopers took George Thomas, alias "Blue," and William Reed, alias "Big Bill," negroes, before Police Justice H. D. Abel at Saugerties, Monday, where they were arraigned for a hearing on a charge of robbery in the first degree. They were held for the grand jury. "Blue" and "Big Bill," who give their address as Shandaken, were arrested for having held up a party of negroes at Malden in the town of Saugerties about five weeks ago, one night just before they started a galloping domino contest, and relieved the prospective crap shooters of $200 at the point of revolvers. "Blue" was arrested at Prattville by Corporal Lounsbury, and "Big Bill" at a rooming house on Meadow street, by Officer Seehoff, Undersheriff Haulenbeck and Corp. Lounsbury, a few days ago.

52 CHILDREN REACT TO TEST

Of The Seventy Who Had Schick Test For Diphtheria Administered At Last Clinic, But Seventeen Prove Negative—Will Receive Preventive On Monday.

Monday afternoon those who received the Schick test for diphtheria at the clinic held last Thursday called at the city hall to have the test read when it was found that fifty-two children were susceptible to the disease. Seventeen children were not, and one child did not call to have the test read.

The fifty-two who reacted to the test will receive the first injection of toxin-antitoxin next Monday at the city hall. The first class of those who received the test will receive the last injection that day, the second class the second injection. This preventive is administered three times at intervals of a week between each injection.

Up to 4.50 o'clock the foreign office had received no official confirmation of the report of the execution of the former Greek ministers.

N. Y. BUILDING STRIKE AVERTED

Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 28.—Idleness for 125,000 men in the building trades and stoppage of $100,000,000 in construction work was averted this afternoon when a truce was effected in the labor fight that has kept New York on edge for a week.

Announcement of the armistice was made by Senator C. C. Lockwood, chairman of the committee which called the conference. The bricklayers who have refused to work with independent laborers will return to work under its terms and the builders will withdraw their lockout order scheduled for five o'clock this evening.

DRIVE RECKLESSLY.

Marlborough Man Arrested in Newburgh on Sunday.
Joseph Selmo, 35, married, and a farmer at Marlborough, was arrested Sunday in Newburgh on a charge of reckless driving when his car was brought to a stop after striking two automobiles, a traffic standard and a tree. He will explain it to the judge in Newburgh later.

Thanksgiving Day Dinner.
Many tickets have been sold and a large crowd is expected at the dance to be given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Uptown Hebrew school Thursday evening, November 30, at Clermont Hall. Music will be furnished by the Imperial orchestra. Mr. Lang of New York city will be the pianist. Several business people are helping to make this affair a success by their donations, as follows: First prize, for waltz, $5, given by Gold's Reliable Shop; second prize, fox trot, gentleman, box of cigars from Henry Hoffman, lady, box of candy from Candyland; box of cigars from Fitzpatrick and Draper and a beautiful large cake from the Advance Restaurant.

Fine Entertainment.
The program carried out at the organ recital of the Presbyterian Church Saturday evening pleased a large audience. The church was crowded in fact, and it was necessary to place chairs in the aisles, vestibule and gallery to accommodate the overflow. The performance on the organ by W. Whiting Freudenburgh, of the First Reformed Church, Kingston, was a splendid exhibition of the powers of that instrument. The Kingston quartet were very pleasing in the solos, duets and as a quartet—Catskill Mall.

CAPONE PICTURES STILL AT COLUMBIA SHOP.

The exhibit of famous paintings of Cautskill Mountain scenery by Giattano Capone from the collection of that artist's work owned by C. G. Orr of Big Indian, will continue at The Columbia Shop on Fair street. Mr. Orr having loaned the paintings for another week because of the great interest which has been shown in them by Kingstonians who appreciate art.

The collection of Capone paintings owned by Mr. Orr is very extensive and he selected only some of the Cautskill Mountain views for the exhibition which has been held at The Columbia Shop.

Capone, who is now dead, was the artist who painted the likeness of the Hon. Levi P. Morton while the latter was governor and it now ornaments the Capitol at Albany.

CHICHESTER.

Chichester, Nov. 27.—William Schwarzwald and Co. are having a community hall erected near the Baptist Church. The hall will be used for movies, basketball and social gatherings. The Boy Scouts will also hold all regular meetings in it. The hall will be ready for use before the Christmas holidays. It is stated.

Lewis Kantor recently purchased a Durant touring car from the Van Kleeck Garage in Kingston.

Miss Beatrice Knight of Kingston spent several days last week with relatives in this place.

Ralph Grant and family have moved to Walden.

The school will close on Tuesday afternoon for the Thanksgiving vacation. Miss Mabel Van Vechten, who teaches the primary room, will spend the vacation at Schaghticoke, N. Y.

The Boy Scouts of this village will hold their next meeting on Thursday evening, December 7. Instead of on November 30. All Scouts are urged to be present.

Uriah Van Kleeck, who has blood poisoning in his right hand, is now in the Kingston City Hospital. Harvey Osterlander, also of this place, is at the hospital recovering from an operation, which was performed several days ago.

Charles Smith intends building a bungalow on the property which he has bought from Henry Dwyer.

Miss Clara Lane will spend Thanksgiving with relatives in Poughkeepsie.

Edward Keator has gone to Texas to visit relatives.

The congregations of the Methodist Churches of Lanesville and Phenicia and of the Baptist Churches of Phenicia and Chichester will hold a union meeting at the latter place on Wednesday evening, November 29. The Rev. Mr. Meeker of Phenicia will be the clergyman in charge of the meeting.

Two Other Trustees.

Through an inadvertence, the names of Mrs. Mary McCall and Miss Mary Larkin were not published with the names of the board of trustees of Court Santa Maria, C. D. of A., which board acted as a reception committee at the entertainment given last Thursday evening at the K. of C. Hall.

BRIGHT COLORS TO BE THE FASHION

Gay Hues Are to Characterize the Modes for Women This Autumn and Winter.

GREAT VARIETY IN SLEEVES

Arm Coverings Often Full Length and Many Styles Offered—Skirts of Various Lengths; Some Have One-Side Drapery.

Eccentricity in detail rather than change in form, together with an adoption of extreme novelties in fabrics, a revival of metal and the return to use of high colors, characterizes the fashion for autumn and winter 1922-23, writes a fashion correspondent in the New York Tribune.

Fashions seem to be moving toward a more stately type of dress, as many of the designers have gone back to the Renaissance period for the details. Hardly a dressmaker in Paris but shows some leaning toward the extravagances of the period of Francis I, Henry VIII, Henry II and on down to the period of Louis XIII.

Here and there the idea is caught in the sleeve; again one sees it in the collar and in the arrangement of the grille. Very frequently it is the design in the fabric; again it is the regal coloring, mixtures of gold, silver, steel and copper in fabrics which look as if they had been hammered or wrought in metal and not woven on looms. Intricacies of jewels, precious and semi-precious, recall the flourishing arts of this sumptuous period.

Explicit Seventeenth Century Styles.

As a variation from the Renaissance there is the note of the pure Venetian styles of the Seventeenth century. Again one sees this motif, therefore, looking persistently to her wide skirt. She has, little support, however, in this from other dressmakers. A predominance of the slender and delicate outlines of the period.

Another note of the fashions is the Oriental note, the Persian, the Egyptian, the Chinese, the Japanese, sometimes in its pure form, and again in the cleverly modernized interpretation.

Magnificent embroideries, hand quilts, beaded, incrustations, hampered, pressed and printed fabrics all have significant showing. France, from the standpoint of novelty materials and trimmings, is coming back to her own. Not since the several previous seasons immediately preceding the war has France produced so many wonderful novelties. This elevation of tissues, whether it be a weave or applied after the work of the looms, will add greatly to the cost of fashionable clothes.

Sleeve Details Vary Silhouette. Details of sleeves have changed considerably, and it is in this point that the silhouette of 1922-23 will express itself largely. New sleeves are often full length and may be large at the wrist, elbow or throughout their full length. Long mitten-shaped sleeves are also much used. Many new forms in puffed effects are seen. Sometimes this puff breaks at the elbow; again it is at the wrist. Sometimes a succession of flare ruffles are placed at the elbow or on the wrist of a tight-fitting sleeve.

Many fancy sleeves are seen on evening dresses. Frequently they start from the elbow downward, and they are even attached at the wrist, covering the hands with deep circular frills. All these new sleeve effects are practically taken from the Renaissance period, court dress style. The sleeveless idea still exists, but is not so new as these other more fanciful forms. The waistline is a variable point, but a big percentage of models continues to be in low waistline style, many of which blouse in the back. There is still every degree of low waistline, from that which starts below the natural waistline to well down to below the turn of the hips, in distinct Egyptian and Oriental forms.

One-Side Drapery.

The length of skirts is still variable, but the consensus of opinion is that the street skirt will be nine to ten inches from the ground. More dressy afternoon toilettes will be four to five inches from the ground. Eccentric period styles, both in crinoline and Renaissance effect, often touch and Three-Piece Suit; Dress of Gray Cloth; Jacket of Dark-Red Cloth, Broadcloth in Gray.

So many of the best makers show such a predominance of the shorter lengths—that is, from nine to ten inches above the feet—that one might expect this to be the universal length. Being variations will be more or less a personal and individual thing.

Surprising as it may seem, the skirt remains narrow, often extremely narrow. Fullness, when introduced, is unobtrusive, and is usually achieved by means of the circular cut. There is less unevenness about the hem, many of the skirts being straight around.

The one-sided drapery is a strong feature even in the plainest tailored dresses and coats; also the one-side fastening and wide, overlapping front. This overlapping one-side effect is also much noted in skirts.

The Three-Piece Suit.

Tailored suits are very pronounced in the showing of both two and three-piece effects. A great majority of the jackets are waist length and in straight, unbelted or slightly blousing and belted styles. The exceptions are incidental novelties in very short box jacket styles, Chinese mandarin full-length coats and three-quarter length circular-cut effects, the latter usually trimmed with fur.

The three-piece idea is prominent. It expresses itself in two forms—the smart one-piece wool dress with matching jacket or the crepe de chine or satin dress with a wool coat entirely covering it, the lining of which is made of the same material as the dress.

Afternoon dresses are much more elaborate than they were last season. They are often made of beautiful novelty materials; or if they are in plain materials they are richly embroidered, appliqued and beaded. They are in decided contrast to the very simple hand-made crepes which have been so greatly in vogue.

Evening dresses are much less decorative than in former years. Many of them are made with a slightly ruffling or button neck. Some of the evening dresses have full-length sleeves, and it is only the very conventional type that is extremely décolleté and sleeveless.

Draped Evening Dresses.

Considerable more is used, notably in evening dresses, the more often having a high luster satin back, making it possible to see in drapery where both sides of the material is allowed to show. In some women marvelous costumes strong, replacing to no small degree crepe de chine. There is, however, a new quality of silk crepe called crepe mongol which is being used quite extensively. Crepe georgette and crepe roman are used for beaded dresses, of which there are still a great many. Georgette and sheer crepe remain are also used in combination.

Many pile fabrics in wools are being shown, notably in thick cord weaves and wafflelike checks, sheared to give a velvet pile surface. These are in solid colors and also in mixtures of two and three tones. A very beautiful line of this character, brought out by Rodier, has a mixture of wool and artificial silk which gives a sort of frosty look.

Rodier often uses a metallic color in the artificial silk which he uses to illuminate the duller woolen threads. In shades of brown and beige he uses flecks of gold and copper-colored silk; in blues and gray he uses silver and steel-tone silk. Thus even these woollens have a metallic glitter.

"Tennis-Court Oath."

The "Tennis-Court Oath" was a solemn oath taken by the members of the national assembly of France in 1789, to the effect "that they would continue to meet for the dispatch of business wherever circumstances might require, until the constitution of the kingdom had been established upon sound and solid foundations." The oath derived its name from the royal tennis court at Versailles, where the assembly met on that occasion, admission to the hall of the Muses Plaines having been refused them by Louis XVI.

When the World Was Without Ocean.

There was a time in the earth's history when there was no sea. The surface of the young earth was too hot to allow the accumulation of water in basins. More than that, there were no basins, for the surface of the earth must have been at any one place no flatter than a pancake. On an average there are three and a half pounds of salty material to every hundred pounds of seawater. More than three-fourths of the salts in the sea consists of common salt (sodium chloride).

MOTOR "GYPSIES" ARE MANY

Traveler in Southern California Impressed by the Number of Tourists on the Road.

Describing a tour through California in Harper's Magazine, Arthur Ruhl writes:

"Everywhere you go, of course, you run into our new motor gypsies. The dusty car, with father and mother, in the same style khaki breeches and O. D. shirt, on the front seat; bareheaded youngsters of all ages in the rear; the family dog squeezed on the running board or into some astonishing corner behind the lamps, and all about, tents, washtubs, and possibly a canoe or two—this is today's prairie schooner.

"Sometimes—as in southern California, for instance, where there has been plenty of building and work for casual masons and carpenters—these motor pilgrimages suggest a considerable shifting of the industrial population. But wherever wild country, and trout, and possibly bear or deer, are within easy motoring distance, nearly everybody falls into the habit of loading up the old bus and starting out for anything from a few days to a few months. Practically every town along the main highways has its municipal camping ground. In Colorado Springs one morning I thought a movie company must be on location in the neighborhood, so exotic seemed the number of young women in riding breeches, sombreroes and flannel shirts with bandanna neckerchiefs, but was told by an unimpressed native that they were 'only tourists.'"

Five of a Kind.

At curious variance with the practice of parents who delight in marking their offspring by out-of-the-way appellations was the custom of the Duke of Beaufort and the earl of Shaftesbury. The eighth Duke of Beaufort named all his five sons Henry after himself and his predecessors in the dukedom with one exception, while the five sons of the seventh earl of Shaftesbury were christened Arthur, a name borne by the present earl's two sons.

The rumor factory at Hollywood, Cal., is busy talking of the reported engagement of Charlie Chaplin and Pola Negri, famous European screen star, who is making pictures in America. Neither will affirm or deny the story.

The fact that Mrs. W. H. Felton of Georgia served in the United States Senate for a day, and will be known as "Senator Felton" for as many years as she may add to her 87, was due solely to the chivalrous courtesy of the Senate in general and of Senator George in particular.

The claims of a mere man in Senator Felton's position would not have been considered and probably would not even have been presented if it was but a graceful tribute to a distinguished woman and compliment to her sex in politics.

One of the wonders of modern times will be Governor-elect Smith if he can make good on all his pre-election promises. He promised everything, practically, from beer and light wines to living without work. He is going to reduce car fares, telephone rates, gas rates, and everything else that can be mentioned, not forgetting a reduction in the efficiency of the state service which will probably be thrown in. He surely has a task ahead if he carries out his pledges, and he will have to do so or admit that he could not put it over.

Republicans are far from disheartened and are already preparing to wage a successful battle in the state and nation two years hence. They are confident that the people will see more clearly as time passes the value of maintaining a Republican administration at Washington and of returning Republicans to power where there was a turnover this year. It would be safe to say that Republicans in general are confident that the Republican party will be stronger two years hence than it ever was as it will not require two years for the Democrats to prove that when it comes to actual administrative intelligence the Democrats are deficient.

According to the New York Times, good citizens are receiving letters "offering to sell prohibited liquors, guaranteeing the quality thereof, and sometimes actually giving 'references' by which the honesty and dependability of the writer can be ascertained." The Times says such a letter is "obviously an insult," but does not venture to estimate the vast number of those eager to be thus "insulted." It is to be feared that their number is past counting. The parrot shrieked "Scotch" at the recent Cheshire Cheese dinner in London when it was asked, for the benefit of Ambassador Harvey, what is now most wanted in America. That parrot's conclusion was both too hasty and too specific. Probably what is now most desired in America is a really reliable bootlegger.

HEALTH PROTECTION.

Commendable work of the State Department of Agriculture is the plan developed for area campaigns to eliminate bovine tuberculosis. The department has cooperated with federal authorities, and it could be described as a whirlwind campaign resulting in the elimination of bovine tuberculosis in a whole county within a period of 15 or 20 days. While tuberculosis eradication may not be understood in general, farmers and milk producers have learned of its value and cities, where the great volume of milk is consumed, will eventually acquire more fully the important information.

The loss of cattle due to the ravages of this disease in New York State runs into millions, but of greater importance, from the State's point of view, is that science says the germ of tuberculosis from bovine animals may be transferred to the human system. It is declared that this is especially so in cases of young children. The importance, therefore, of a milk supply from sound cattle is very plain. Thus far work has been completed in two counties, Essex and Steuben, and in each county the farm bureau and tuberculosis committees have cooperated with federal and state officials and veterinarians.

It is possible that too little heed is given by the public to work of this nature which is being pushed for the benefit not only of the farmer but all the people of the state. Leaders in agricultural thought have given strong support of the efforts to free herds from this disease. The State Department, county and in cooperation tion with the Federal Department has administered the tuberculin test to more than 200,000 cattle and that there are now in the state more than 600 herds free from tuberculosis, which proves that progress, and distinct progress, has been made during the past two years.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper, enclosing stamped envelope for reply.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. We have Baltimore orioles in our trees every summer, that is up through June; but I hardly see or hear them after that. What becomes of them?

2. How many animals are carnivorous?

3. Can anything be done to save trees that have been gnawed by mice. Answers in Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. How can a bird keep hold of a slippery catch like fish?

The osprey, which fishes for a living, has very strong claws or talons, and these are reinforced by roughened scales on the soles of its feet and toes, which spike and hold the fish. Eagles have curved talons that do not let go.

2. We had caterpillars in our big asteria for the first time this summer. It is a fine old vine, covering an iron fence and we want to protect it. Is there anything we can do?

Yes, use arsenate of lead spray. If your vine is on the street, you might be able to hire the park department to spray it when their apparatus is around spraying trees. The vine would probably put out new foliage after one stripping, but a second brood of caterpillars would put the vine out of business. A wisteria is as fine an ornament as a tree, and should be cared for.

3. Is there any difference in the poison of a rattlesnake, a copperhead, or a southern water-moccasin?

The copperhead inflicts a smaller wound, but apparently the venom is more powerful, as its victims among small animals die quicker than when bitten by the deadly water-moccasin or a cottonmouth. Some toxicologists count the moccasin's venom more deadly than that of the rattlesnakes; but one of the most eminent authorities on snakes lists the rattlers as "second to none" among poisonous snakes.

Miss Katherine Force.

Miss Katherine Force, sister of Mrs. William K. Dick, the second Mrs. John Jacob Astor, is now reported engaged to Major Lorillard Spencer, a hero of the A. E. F., who was recently divorced. Some time ago Miss Force's engagement to Henri Harlickell, of New York, was announced, but it is now reported to have been broken.

Albany Avenue Baptist Church.

The prayer meeting will be omitted this week and instead the church will join in the union Thanksgiving service at the high school auditorium on Thanksgiving morning at 10:30 o'clock. Dr. Putnam Cady will preach the Thanksgiving sermon.

In view of the older boys' conference held in the city the last of the week, the pastor, the Rev. Arthur S. Cole, will preach an appropriate sermon next Sunday morning on the topic, "A Boy Detective in the Bible."

The men of the church will give a pancake supper, open to the public, on Tuesday of next week, December 5, from 5 to 8 o'clock. Pancakes, sausage, maple syrup and all that goes with them, will be included in the menu. Owing to the proximity of Thanksgiving Day, the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society will not be held this week, but instead on Friday, December 8.

The Public School.

The public school is more than the intellectual expression of democracy; it is the hope, the strength, the beauty of democracy; its way, and truth, and life.—Dr. J. L. Sharp in Harper's Magazine.

WHY Unhandsome Men Make the Best Husbands

One of the commonest mistakes which men make is to suppose that mainly beauty influences women largely in their choice of a husband. Men are themselves so seriously affected by beauty of person that it is but natural for them to fancy that it counts for as much with women also. "I am not much to look at," a man will say. "No woman is likely to fall in love with me." Or, concerning a friend: "Poor old Jack, he's a good sort, but he doesn't stand much chance with a handsome chap like Brown in the running."

Most women, when they hear such speeches, are apt to smile, either at the man's modesty or his ignorance. But the feminine point of view differs widely from that of man. A woman's love is won by such different means from his that, other things being taken into consideration, the question of looks affects her comparatively little.

This does not mean that women do not admire handsome men. They do, and the men who are uncommonly good to look at are more than apt to be spoiled by the adulation of the sex in general, but admiration by no means implies love.

One of the most remarkable traits in women is their tendency to fall in love with men who are so plain as to be positively ugly.

Some years ago I made the acquaintance of a charming woman, who told me that she possessed an absolute worship for ugly men. There was a certain pathos in their visages she averred, which constrained her deep admiration, and eventually she proved this by marrying a man whose countenance went far to prove the Darwinian theory.

The man who wins is he who takes the trouble to woo, and a plain man is far more likely to bestir himself than one who, accustomed to admiration from his youth up, relies on his personal appearance as his passport and expects affection as his due.

Influenced by his self-distrust, the plain man goes out of his way to show a woman all the little attentions which her heart craves. Figuratively he offers her devotion upon bended knee instead of by bowing to her level with an air of condescension.—Emma M. Wise in the Continental Edition of the London Mail.

READY TO MEET EMERGENCY

Why Great Disaster, Like That at Swatow, China, Is Not Likely to Visit America.

Existence of the typhoon which snuffed out the lives of tens of thousands of Chinese in and around the port of Swatow, 250 miles from Hongkong, was known in this country long before it struck that unfortunate city. Officials of the United States weather bureau claim that a similar disaster from some of our equally severe, Gulf and Caribbean sea hurricanes is unthinkable because people here are better prepared to meet such an emergency.

Superior forecasting facilities and more intelligent warning co-operation, it is claimed, would enable those living in the lowlands to gain higher ground before the great wall of water could engulf them. Many of the hurricanes which strike our southern coast are predicted several days in advance. Warnings of the recent Chinese storm were probably forwarded by the Philippine weather service to Hongkong fully a day before the typhoon reached Swatow, it is believed.

Why It Is "Peacock Alley"

Many people have often wondered as to how the term "Peacock Alley" originated. Perhaps the most likely story of its origin is that given by the wife of a former senator, who, at the Willard the other night, said: "In the days of the war of '61-'65, in the corridor of Washington's leading hotel the young maidens used to walk up and down gowning in dresses having voluminous skirts, and these were of many brilliant hues. A crabbed old colonel, just back from the front, was delayed one night in his anxious march to the bar by these young women. Giving them a withering glance, he snorted: 'Humph! They strut up and down here just like a lot of peacocks.' A very likely explanation as to the origin of the term.—Washington Star.

Why Arita Porcelain Ranks High.

The porcelain produced at Arita, Japan, holds its high rank because of its artistic finish and durability. It is made of the white clay known as kaolin, extensive deposits of which are found in the vicinity. Pottery works in Arita have been in existence since the sixteenth century. Arita is in the western part of the island of Kishiu, about 38 miles north of Nagasaki, with which it has railway connection.—Cleveland News-Leader.

Why Senator Abandoned Humor.

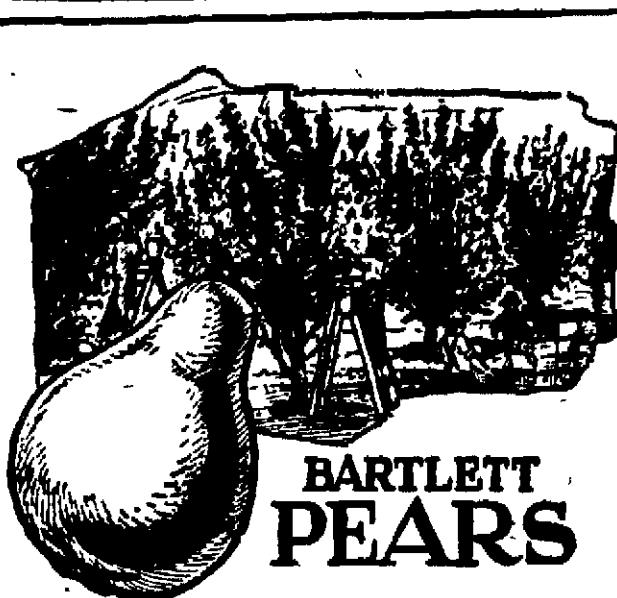

"You never tell any humorous anecdotes in your speeches," remarked the friend. "I had to quit trying to embellish my discourse with touches of fun," replied Senator Borah. "The comedy went so well that the audience wouldn't pay any attention to my serious arguments."

Why Stars Twinkle.

There are several reasons why stars twinkle, the chief being atmospheric conditions. Twinkling increases as the temperature falls and as the barometer rises. Humboldt, in the tropics, found that the stars shone with a mild light.

STATE TEACHERS' DELEGATES MEET

By Telegram to The Freeman. Nov. 28.—The annual meeting of the State Teachers' Association, meeting here, will go on record this afternoon for a higher standard of teachers' ethics and living conditions. It was indicated today as the educators started consideration of legislative resolutions.

Other subjects slated for this afternoon's consideration, are: Request for state laws divorcing administration of school affairs from municipal officials. Appointment of a field agent on salary. Dividing the state into districts for meetings of lesser groups. Request for larger appropriations for the state for normal schools, academies and teachers' quotas.

Shandaken Man Arrested. By Telegram to The Freeman. Nov. 28.—A man, seven years old, who was killed Monday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile driven by a chauffeur who gave the name of Harris Williams, thirty-three years old, of Shandaken, N. Y., said to be employed by a construction company which is building a power plant at Whittingham, Vt. Williams was arrested and held without bail. Those who saw the accident said that the boy was playing in the street when the boy was struck.

CANTATA AT CHURCH OF REDEEMER TONIGHT.

A Thanksgiving devotional service will be held in the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, corner of Wurts and Rogers streets, this evening, which will have as its chief feature the rendering of Maunder's Song of Thanksgiving by an augmented choir and talented solo voices. Among the modern composers, Maunder ranks high from the standpoint both of musical conception and popular appreciation. The work to be rendered tonight is possibly the composer's masterpiece and according to New York and Philadelphia newspapers, it will be rendered seven or eight times in these cities during this Thanksgiving week. Last Sunday afternoon it was being rendered by the choir of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church of New York city. The service will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and the public is cordially invited.

LeRoy Longendyke of 28 Franklin street, this city, has filed under the assumed named business law a certificate in the office of the Ulster county clerk that he is conducting the business at 708 Broadway, under the name and style, "The Broadway Garage." Mr. Longendyke is the surviving member of the firm that conducted the business, Henry Stryker being dead, under that name, and now, according to his certification has taken over the business personally.

BABY, TEN MONTHS OLD, TALKS, HAS 16 TEETH

Mother Says Child Wonder is in Demand as Booster for Patent Medicine.

Ruby Ma McClung is ten months old. She laughs and shows sixteen perfectly formed teeth. She weighs 50 pounds, is 42 inches in height and measures 35 inches around chest, 33 inches around waist and 18 inches around thigh. Talks, and her development is declared to be equal to that of a child of three.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McClung, the former sixty and the latter twenty-five, are the parents. They have one other child, a boy, three years old. They are of the average successful farmer type and their ancestors also were farmers, none of them having any extraordinary physical characteristics or being especially large in stature. They are used to hard work, but are in easy financial circumstances.

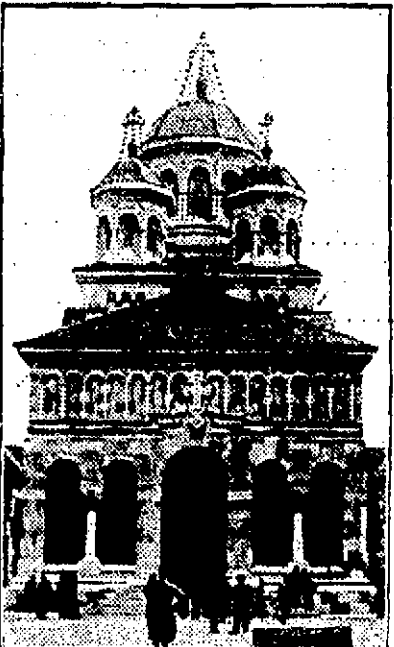

"We are as puzzled as anyone over the way the baby has grown," said Mrs. McClung, asked to explain why her daughter now weighs several pounds more than her three-year-old brother.

Mrs. McClung said the baby was healthy and there had been no occasion to have a doctor since she was born; nor had she ever given her a dose of medicine.

"We have many visitors to see the baby," said Mrs. McClung. "It is rather amusing to listen to some of the strangers that come here wanting me to sign contracts for exhibiting my baby. One of them wanted a picture of the baby with a signed statement of the wonderful results of his patent medicine. But you know I couldn't do anything like that, for the baby never was given a dose of medicine."

Mrs. McClung said that when the baby was born she weighed only six pounds. Little Miss McClung's feet are too small now to support her unusual weight. So she does not walk yet.

BEAUTIFUL CATHEDRAL AT BUCHAREST, RUMANIA

DEMAND DRESS SUITS

French Deputies Find Soviet Authorities Are Exacting.

A dress suit is more necessary than a red shirt in Moscow, according to Deputy Daladier of the French chamber, who with Deputy Herriot of Lyons, made a private tour of investigation in Russia recently. Deputy Daladier attaches little importance to what he wears, and so before starting from Paris convinced himself that there was no need to take dress clothes to a communist country.

The French deputy realized his mistake, it appears, when he arrived in Moscow and quickly learned that the western countries are no more exacting in dress than are the directors of Soviet Russia. A kindly functionary of the bolshevik foreign office fortunately came to the rescue of Deputy Daladier with the loan of a well-cut evening suit and saved the deputy from losing caste.

Had M. Daladier attended the Genoa conference he would not have made this mistake, for the members of the soviet delegation there shone in the elegance of their attire. There are also Paris haberdashers on the Champs Elysees who could have warned him of the need of evening clothes. There is one men's furnishing establishment in particular which advertises Tchitcherine, Lenin and Trotsky among its customers. A certain suit of palm-leaf in mouse gray, richly embroidered, has been visible in that shop lately before being sent direct to the soviet foreign minister.

Whips Wife With Empty Coat Sleeve. Charging that her one-armed husband whipped her with his empty coat sleeve, Mrs. Laura M. Rhoades Denison, of New Philadelphia, O., won a divorce. A large cuff button in the coat sleeve made the beatings unbearable, Mrs. Denison asserted.

Explaining the "Matchmaker." It is the natural instinct that makes every woman a matchmaker. She works blindly toward the baby. If she cannot have one directly, she will have it vicariously. The sorrows of old maidhood are then doomed to have a hand in the perpetuation of the race.—William J. Locke.

Jewels Considered Magical.
The jewel was developed from its lowest form to its highest in Egypt—from a plain, unattractive stone to angles and necklaces 20 times more elaborate than any that had been made for centuries. Yet never in this period did the jewel lose its primary use and importance as a thing of magic. It did in passing, however, give expression to some early forms of religion, if they may be so called; it aided in the rise of sculpture; it made possible the later development of science by originating the use of glass; and last, but by no means least, it paved the way for the world trade which came with Alexander, by providing a medium of exchange. No other single form of human expression, save that of speech itself, has played so long, so varied and so important a part in the evolution of the human race.—National Jeweler.

Really Dry Territory.
One of the driest parts of the United States is what is called the Papago country, a region including about 13,000 square miles, in southwestern Arizona, so called because it was long ago inhabited by the nomadic Papago Indians. The broad expanse of desert country, which lies between the Gila river and the Mexican boundary, contains many groups of volcanic and other mountains, separated by broad alluvial basins, which, though the rainfall is small and the temperature is high, sustain a scant growth of desert plants, including orchard-like groups of strange trees. Here the bold slopes of mountains, the general absence of watering places, and particular forms of the vegetation impress the traveler strongly with the majesty and the mystery of the desert, and excite his wonder as to the origin and history of the natural features.

Ready for the Bugle.
Several of my father's comrades had dropped away during the winter (he was eighty-four years old) and he was aware that all his generation were nearing their end. "There's only one more migration left for us," he said composedly, yet with a note of regret. Not on the strength of any religious creed, but by reason of manly faith in the universe he faced death. He was a kind of primitive warrior who, having lived honorably, was prepared to meet what was to come. "I've no complaint to make," he said. "I've had a long life and on the whole a happy life. I'm ready for the bugle."—Hamilton Garland, in "A Daughter of the Middle Border."

HOME BUREAU MEMBER CAMPAIGN

Ulster County Home Bureau Working Hard to Maintain Ulster's Pre-eminence Among New York Organizations.

The Ulster County Home Bureau membership campaign is being carried on vigorously in Ulster county this week and committees of the Bureau in each community are working not only to secure prompt renewals of memberships of the past year but also to secure new members.

Membership in the Ulster County Home Bureau at the time the present campaign started numbered 1,414. Some communities have a large membership while in other communities which are not so large the membership is smaller, but in every community which includes Home Bureau members the interest of the women has continued to grow steadily in the work which the Bureau undertakes.

The United States government and the government of the state of New York are in direct touch with every Home Bureau organization and every effort of the county Home Bureau is conducted practically under federal and state supervision.

The art and science of making homes more attractive is everywhere receiving greater attention, and under the direction of Home Bureau organization, members of the Bureau are learning and in turn are imparting the knowledge that home-making is not the unpopular profession which it had come to be regarded in recent years. The training and the application of the knowledge thus gained is considered by federal and state officials who have given the matter their attention to be of far greater value than the funds which receive popular support for a time and then are succeeded by some other fad. Home-making, on the contrary, is permanent and its value is reflected directly by the development of rural sections with the consequent increased value of production and trade.

Health, proper standards of food, which appeal directly to every member of the household; proper clothing selection; stimulated interest in better standards of amusement; the establishment of labor-saving devices in the home and a wider distribution of information regarding the way to provide the family with better clothing at lowered cost are among the few activities which have been put to practical application in Ulster county. The active interest of the women of Ulster county in the Ulster County Home Bureau is shown by the growth from year to year and Home Bureau members without exception have shown a disposition to cooperate with all organizations by which their efforts will be furthered to stimulate increased interest in providing better homes on a basis of wider selection of adequate food, clothing, shelter and conveniences.

The Home Bureau is looking for the homes of Ulster county precisely what the Farm Bureau is accomplishing for the farms, and to every section of the county the present membership campaign will be made along the lines indicated. Ulster stands first in membership of the Home Bureau of New York state, and the women intend that its enviable position shall be maintained.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS.

A Frock in Dainty Style.

3998. This model is easy to put together, and very easy to launder. In pouce, prints, or crepe it will be very attractive.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. A 6 year size requires 2 1/2 yards of 32 inch material. An illustrated figured voile was used with rickrack braid for decoration.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

ALLIGERVILLE.

Alligerville, Nov. 27.—Mrs. J. D. Hendrickson, who was seriously ill last week, is very much improved under the care of Dr. Sherman of Stone Ridge.

We are glad to know that Mr. and Mrs. Abram Grose are to be with us this winter. Mr. Grose has had a very lucrative position offered him in the south but he has decided to stay in Alligerville.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Roosa of New Paltz called on friends here Thursday.

Services will be continued in the M. E. Church during this week. The Rev. Weber of Stone Ridge is conducting them.

Mrs. Jacob Steen spent the past week at Lake Mohonk.

Miss Mamie Schoonmaker spent the week end in Kyserville, keeping house for Mr. and Mrs. Haines, who were in Oneonta attending the funeral of Mr. Haines's father.

$429,271 G. O. P. STATE CAMPAIGN EXPENSES.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, Nov. 28.—The Republican state committee spent $429,271.94 in the last campaign, according to a statement filed with the secretary of state yesterday. The receipts totaled $374,169.34, leaving the committee with liabilities of $55,102.

The report shows the committee borrowed $50,000 from the Harriman National Bank and $5,000 from the Chase National Bank, both of New York city.

The Women's National Republican Club and the National Republican Club each contributed $7,000.

Every Republican county committee in the state received contributions from the state committee. New York county was first with $52,500. Queens and Bronx counties each got $15,000.

"The Centipede" Tonight.

This evening, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock, the play, "The Centipede," written by Erastus Osgood and coached by him—as well as participated in by the author—will be given by the young people of St. John's parish and their friends at the parish house for the benefit of St. John's Sunday school. The play will be repeated on Wednesday evening.

HEALTH NURSES MUST BE AT LEAST 21 YEARS OLD.

More Stringent Regulations to Prevail in Public Work.

Rules for the qualification of public health nurses, which were relaxed during the war because of great shortage of nurses, are to be tightened again after January 1, according to the announcement yesterday by the state health department. After the first of the year no public health nurse can be appointed by county or municipal authorities who is not at least 21 years old at the date of appointment, who is not a registered nurse, or who has not completed a course in public health nursing approved by the public health council of the department of health.

KRUMVILLE.

Krumville, Nov. 27.—The Rev. J. B. Steketee will conduct the services here next Sunday. At the close of the service there will be a meeting of the congregation, and all the members are urged to be present.

At St. John's Church.

On Thursday, St. Andrew's Day and Thanksgiving Day, there will be two services at St. John's Church. Holy communion at 8 o'clock and a second service at 10 o'clock.

Everybody Loves 'em

Reliance PANCAKE FLOUR

"When the frost is on the pumpkin;
And the fodder's in the shock."
That's the time to serve Reliance Pancakes for breakfast. These crisp Fall mornings seem to tantalize appetite in a way that can only be appeased with a platter of Reliance Pancakes.

A breakfast of these good, old-fashioned cakes flanked by a pot of coffee is much more satisfying to the average mortal than a ten-course affair in a fashionable restaurant.

Everybody loves 'em, especially men and boys. And mother likes them too because it's such an easy matter to fry them. No fuss, no muss—just stir up a batter and put on the griddle.

CHILDREN'S PAROLE OFFICER NEEDED

To Carry Out Work of Children's Court, Judge Porter Tells Supervisors—Business Done by Board.

The county legislature began its third week's session at the supervisors' rooms in the court house Monday evening. A communication was read from Judge Joseph M. Fowler, the recently appointed judge of the children's court for Ulster county, which office functioned on November 1.

Judge Fowler, whose court will have jurisdiction over all matters of a legal nature pertaining to children in this city, in the village, and the towns, called attention to the fact that there is no parole officer to whom the welfare of children may be entrusted. There will be many cases during the year and investigation shows that 85 per cent of the children are placed under parole. In some counties two parole officers have been provided. The salaries range from $1,800 to $3,000 a year for full time. In some counties they are engaged for part time and expenses. Girls are committed in parole of a woman officer, and boys in parole of a man. The position is a civil service one. Judge Fowler thought provision should be made for a parole officer and he stated he would confer with the board at any time in regard to the matter. The chair referred the communication to the committee on salaries and appointment of county officers.

County Treasurer Lounsbury reported having paid out on account of lunacy bills $730 as follows:

Esopus	$20
Gardiner	20
Kingston City	200
Marbletown	40
New Paltz	50
Oliver	20
Plattekill	40
Rosendale	40
Saugerties	80
Shawangunk	40
Ulster	40
Woodstock	40
Ulster county	190

Total $730
The report was referred to the committee on town and county accounts.

County Treasurer Lounsbury reported that he had received receipts from county treasurer of $12,677.18, and $100 from Sheriff William H. Kolts. Referred to the committee on county treasurer and sealer.

County Sealer Frank TenEyck submitted his annual report. Referred to committee on county treasurer and sealer.

William H. Kolts as sheriff of Ulster county reported receipts during the year as follows: January 3, 1922, from state comptroller, for transportation of prisoners, $50; May 22, 1922, $50, from state comptroller for transportation of prisoners, which he had paid to the county treasurer. Referred to the committee on sheriff's accounts.

Messrs. C. Young, Tremper and Shaw offered a resolution that bids be received by a committee to be appointed, for the printing of 2,000 copies of the annual proceedings of the board of supervisors proposals to be received Wednesday evening, December 6, at 8 o'clock. The chair appointed the members of the printing committee as the committee to receive proposals and report.

Supervisor Preston of the First ward said: "Why the necessity of printing 2,000 copies of the proceedings? I got thirty copies last year, being my allotment and I did not know what to do with them."

Chairman Brasher suggested to Supervisor Preston that he meet with the committee and take up the matter with them.

Several resolutions offered at previous sessions were called up and adopted.

On motion of Supervisor Weiss the board of supervisors adjourned until Tuesday evening, November 28, to meet at 7:30 o'clock.

DAIRY POINTS

BUTTER RATED FOR QUALITY

Producers Lose Much Money Because of Imperfect Conditions and Methods in Making.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
If you are a producer or manufacturer of butter, were you disappointed in the price you received for that last shipment? Quality is the chief factor in determining better prices, and according to United States Department of Agriculture circular 236, just issued, even small defects in quality may result in the loss of a sale or a cut in price.

Several million dollars annually are lost to producers and manufacturers because of imperfect conditions and methods in production, manufacture and marketing of dairy products, the circular states. During 1920 the marginal difference in the prices of high and low quality butter amounted at times to as much as 15 cents between 37 score and 92 score. Lack of proper attention or care in the creaming, grading the cream, or in churning, working, salting or packing the butter are stated to be mainly responsible for this condition.

The circular enumerates and describes the various factors such as flavor, body, color, salt and package that influence price. These factors are given specific ratings by local and federal butter inspectors, and receivers, in determining the final score of the product, and the ratings are governed by the absence or presence of certain defects described in the circular.

It is stated that there has never before been a time in the history of American butter making when it paid so well to produce high-quality butter as during recent years. But to secure an active demand and the largest net return not only high quality and uniformity of the product are necessary, but a knowledge of market requirements and good marketing methods are required.

Circular 236, entitled "Defects in the Quality of Butter," has been prepared so that producers and manufacturers may know precisely how butter is rated for quality in the markets, and how the defects which lower the price may be obtained. Copies of the circular can be obtained free upon request to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Influence of Breed

The breed of a dairy cow has a distinct influence on the water content of her milk. For example, Jersey milk as an average contains 14.7 per cent total solids, of which 5.85 per cent is fat, while Holstein milk contains, on the average, 11.85 per cent total solids, of which 3.42 per cent is butterfat. In other words every 100 pounds of Jersey milk contains 85 pounds of water, while every 100 pounds of Holstein milk contains 88 pounds of water. The difference in feeding value amounts to 2.61 pounds of milk solids per 100 pounds of milk in favor of Jersey milk.

There's Money in Milking.
The greatness of the dairy industry is more appreciated now than for several years past. Dairying actually shows a gain during the past year of several hundred million dollars, while most of the other farm branches show losses into the billions.

Dairy Improvement.
Replacing the low producing cows with better ones and later with purebreds is only one of the ways in which a dairy improvement association helps a community.

Proper Feed for Cows.
After a calf is four weeks old it must have milk in its ration, skin milk and grain will not nourish it properly. At this age the calves should have all the clover or alfalfa hay they want.

Weed Out Unprofitable Cows.
Even in the leading dairy states, probably one-fourth or more of the dairy cows fail to pay for their care and feed, due chiefly to the fact that the owners do not know which return a profit and which are "boarders."

Mistaken Policy.
People shouldn't be so saving with their dollars. The more you give the more you get, applies to pleasant looks. The fellow that looks like he had a pain in his ego when he greets you in a cheery, blithe, or joyous way is a cheater. He's not the joy of life.—Thomas Jefferson Plummer.

THANKSGIVING DINNER COSTS

By Bird to Cost $3 to 70 Cents
 Pound Unless Weather Turns
 Warm—Prices Generally About
 Same as Last Year.

A survey of the local market shows that the Thanksgiving dinner will cost from $3 to $70 a pound unless the weather turns warm. Prices generally are about the same as last year. That the wholesale market price in New York city will govern the retail selling price in Kingston was the conclusion reached by a representative of the Freeman after asking quotations from various shops. The prices quoted on turkeys in retail price in various shops are: live turkeys, 55 cents a pound; dressed turkeys, 50 cents a pound; live geese, 40 cents a pound; dressed geese, 35 cents a pound; live ducks, 30 cents a pound; dressed ducks, 25 cents a pound. Fowl capons 55 cents a pound. Should there be a turn of warm weather within the next two days the wholesale price in the New York market will drop some as there are said to be many carcasses of turkeys held up on the railroads in New Jersey so that the market will not be glutted, which would affect retail prices.

No Thanksgiving dinner is complete without celery and cranberry sauce and two stalks of the celery can be had for 25 cents, and cranberries are quoted at from 15 to 20 cents the pound, the latter price being asked for the large berries. Householders can study the advertisements in The Freeman with profit.

The hotels and restaurants will all serve special Thanksgiving dinners and many families, that will be augmented by near relatives on a visit home that day, will gather about the hotel's festive board on Thanksgiving in season, instead of going through the trouble of cooking as in the good old days when turkey could be bought for from 30 to 50 cents a pound and the cost of a real Thanksgiving dinner for half a dozen or more would be about $5. With pumpkin pie, plum pudding and all that went with it, a similar dinner today costing with turkey at 70 cents a pound, about three times more at least.

 C. Baldwin Allen.
 Sermon, the Rev. Putnam Cad.
 Closing Hymn and Benediction.

The service will begin promptly at half past ten and will last only about an hour. The offering will be for the Industrial Home in this city.

Fish Whose Flesh is Poison.
 No known land animal has naturally poisonous flesh. There are, however, several fish whose flesh is deadly.

TO BE MODELED IN BRONZE

Winners of British Dog-Racing Contests Will Have Memorials Preserved by American Sculptor.

Captain Cattle, winner of the Derby; Mastie Hall, winner of the Grand National, and Guards' Brigade, winner of the Waterloo, are among the 25 British champion dogs to be modeled in bronze by the American sculptor, Herbert Haseltine. The King's Labrador retriever, a champion of his class and declared at one show to be the best dog of the year, has already been modeled.

Haseltine is an inspired sculptor of the horse, says an art critic. Besides achieving a perfection of detail that delights the most fastidious owner, he has the gift of imparting the animal's character to his studies. Horses talk with their ears, and in each of Mr. Haseltine's models the set of the ears most common to his subject is carefully reproduced.

That other animals can and do inspire him he has shown in bull-light sculpture. One study of his shows a proud, powerful beast with fight in every line.

Must Never Be Malicious.
 Wit loses its point when dipped in malice.—Sheridan.

A Bond Issue for an Important Public Service

The people of the Central Hudson Valley have before them a project that is of vital importance from the standpoint of the development of this section of the State.

In this new era when industry is being decentralized, Manufacturers are leaving the large cities and locating where living conditions are better, labor is content and electric power available in large amounts.

To meet the increasing demands of power users in the Central Hudson Valley and to provide for the great future growth that is assured, a new and larger water power plant is being installed at Rifton, and a steel tower transmission line is being built to bring in via Schenectady additional power from Adirondack sources.

To finance this important development the 6% First Mortgage Bonds of the United Hudson Electric Corporation are being offered to local investors with the approval of the Public Service Commission.

Already, about 3,000 local investors have taken advantage of this opportunity to invest safely and at a good rate of interest in this project. It commands the interest and support of every citizen who is interested in the progress and prosperity of the Central Hudson Valley and affords an excellent security for investment purposes, including as it does the privilege of conversion, on any interest date, into Cumulative Preferred Stock paying 7%.

ARE JUST "PA" AND "MA" NOW

Modern Children Lack Oldtime Dignified Titles for Their Parents, Declares a London Writer.

When I was a small boy, forty years ago, children almost without exception addressed their parents as "papa" and "mamma." When a boy grew older and went to school he frequently took to saying "sir" to his father, though, behind his back, he usually referred to him as "pater" or "the governor."

At the same time he gave up saying "mamma," which he considered childish, and took to calling his mother "mother," or sometimes "mater."

It was about twenty years ago that the abbreviations "pa" and "ma" began to be generally used. They came from America, where they had already been in use for many years.

Some children used "daddy" instead of "papa," and after a time "papa" went out altogether, and was replaced by "dad" with those of older growth.

Today "dad" is almost universal. Even the little sharer of four or five calls his father "dad." As for "mama," it is as obsolete as "papa," and mother-families is now known universally as "mum."

The only part of the kingdom in which these abbreviations have not found favor is Scotland, where the more formal "father" and "mother" are still insisted upon.—London Answers.

Alexander's Famous War Horse.

Bucephalus, the famous warhorse of Alexander the Great, bought by his father, Philip of Macedonia, for 13 talents ($17,500), was so wild and refractory that no one was able to mount him; but Alexander finally broke him in, thus fulfilling the condition of the oracle necessary to secure the Macedonian crown. Bucephalus carried Alexander through all of his Asiatic campaigns, and lived to the age of 30 years. He died in northern India in 327 B. C.; and on the site of his burial place Alexander founded the city of Bucephala.

Resented the Appellation.

They were rival candidates for a seat in parliament and they snubbed patronizingly when they met in a railway train. "My good sir," said the first rival, kindly, "whatever on earth has prompted you to oppose me in the forthcoming election? You haven't a chance to win; it's a donkey to a strawberry against you." "Indeed," said the other man dubiously, "that doesn't sound encouraging, but perhaps you wouldn't mind apologizing for the liberty you've taken in calling me a strawberry."—London Tit-Bits.

Had the Wrong Elton.

It was out in the country, where about ten farmers are on one party telephone line. By means of varied rings one can telephone to any one of the others without calling central. One day I called up my friend, Elton, and asked her to go to the dance with me. Imagine our mutual surprise, when, on arriving at her home, she had not heard of the dance. In my haste when calling I had confused the rings and had been talking to another Elton on the same line.—Exchange.

STATE FARM BUREAU OFFICERS

Enos R. Lee, Yorktown Heights, was elected president of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation at the annual convention in Syracuse, November 21-23, succeeding S. L. Strivings, who has served as the Federation's president since its organization in 1917. Mr. Lee, who is president of the Westchester County Farm Bureau, has been first vice-president of the Federation for the past two years and for two years previous was second vice-president.

Mr. Lee runs a 160 acre general farm in Westchester county which has been in his family for five generations. He has held various offices in Pomona and subordinate granges, is acting now as county grange deputy for Putnam and Westchester counties. During the year past, as chairman of the Federation's organization committee, he has been active in farm Bureau membership campaigns and other federation work.

Other officers elected were as follows: First vice-president, B. W. Miller, Oswego; second vice-president, Peter G. Ten Eyck, Albany; treasurer, W. A. Mather, Adams; director, H. R. Fairbank, Riverhead.

B. W. Miller, C. C. Porter, Albion, and F. M. Smith, Springfield Center, were chosen as directors of the American Farm Bureau Federation, representing the New York State Farm Bureau Federation. Alternate E. R. Lee.

"THE CAMPUS" NOW ON SALE AT NEWS STANDS

"The Campus," the monthly magazine issued by the Alumni Association of K. H. S., will be on sale beginning today. This issue contains an interesting account of Cornell University, a progressive editorial of the business world, personal on alumni, a third installment of the "Knights of the Round Shoulder," cartoons, the latest news of the high school, football records, special announcements, and a number of good jokes. The magazine is on sale at the various news stores around town.

The next issue will be a special Christmas number.

Levy Wrongly Reported.

Through error in copying a resolution offered by Supervisor Brethaupt at a session of the board of supervisors one evening last week was acting now as county grange deputy for Putnam and Westchester counties. When A. B. See, millionaire president of the A. B. See Elevator Company, of New York, replied to a request for funds to help erect new buildings at Adelphi College, Brooklyn, he brought a hornet's nest down on himself. Mr. See, who left school at thirteen, declared women's colleges ought to be burned, so women could learn some common sense. These Adelphi girls declared "Them's harsh words, Alonzo!" and laughed their scorn. "He's the kind of a man who would make his daughter wear wooden shoes," was the sarcastic comment of Phyllis Cohen, an Adelphi student.

CURRENT OFFERINGS AT THE THEATRES.

"The Broken Wing," a well known Broadway success, was the opener of the Myrtle-Harder Stock Co. at the Opera House last night. The play was entertaining throughout, with a sprinkling of thrills and a regular harvest of laughs. The production was capably presented by a well chosen cast—and dressed with a magnificent scenic investiture.

Tonight the company will present a mystery play, "The Nightcap," by Guy Bolton (who wrote "Sally," "Tangerine," "Adam and Eva" and a score of other stage successes) and Max Marwin who wrote "Cheating Cheaters."

Viola Dana is at Keeney's tonight in a lively comedy entitled "Glass Houses." Al St. John in "Special Delivery" is an added comedy. Wednesday Shirley Mason in "Jackie" presents the story of a little wait who rises to fame as a Russian dancer. Starting Thanksgiving day Rodolph Valentino in "The Conquering Power," a Rex Ingram production of Balzac's world famous "Eugenie Grandet."

Anita Stewart in "Rose of the Sea," is programmed at the Auditorium tonight; also, Art Acord as the pony express rider in the historic chapter play "In the Days of Buffalo Bill." Wednesday Richard Dix and May Collins in "All's Fair in Love," a breezy story of a vamp who was sorry she was married.

Today is the last showing of the late Paramount picture, "The Face in the Fog," with Lionel Barrymore, in conjunction with vaudeville.

HELLO SHOW PLEASES ANEW

The Men's Club of the St. James & Church, secured the telephone company and demonstration, was last week of the High School, to celebrate the first annual meeting of the club on Monday evening, November 13th. The club's next meeting would come on Wednesday evening, it was voted to have the time of such meeting to be decided by the executive committee.

Mr. Freudenstein introduced Mr. and Mrs. McLane of the local telephone company and Mr. Harder, who invited all present to visit the company's office in this city, turned the meeting over to Mr. W. Snyder, formerly of this city, who had charge of the evening's entertainment.

The program opened with a motion picture, by Harold Lloyd, a comedy, "Number, Please!" which was really funny throughout. All of the program was given by telephone employees, and included a vocal solo by one of the Kingston operators, Miss Brook, accompanied by Miss Farrell, who sang very pleasingly, "My Star," and as an encore number "Harlequin."

Then came the actual demonstration of what happens during the process of telephoning, there being set up two small sections of "central switchboards, one for Kingston and one for Poughkeepsie. Miss Helen Dwyer of Albany had charge of the Kingston office, and Miss Kathryn Hall of Albany was the Poughkeepsie operator, Lester W. Seigline being the man in charge of the equipment.

Miss Florence G. Carnross, of Albany, who has been with the telephone company some thirty years and is now the manager of the operator training classes, accompanied the party, acting as chaperon for the young ladies. While it was all very interesting, perhaps one of the most interesting features of the demonstration was that of a "busy" wire. After the two young ladies had done all that they could to demonstrate the working of the telephone system, they were further assisted by Mr. Snyder and another member of the office force in showing how subscribers may cooperate with the operators in securing better service.

There was another motion picture of "Beyond the Line of Vision," which was one of the cleverest parts of the program, especially the assembling of the many parts that go to make up just an ordinary desk telephone set.

After the program the young ladies were very gracious in answering questions as far as they were able. Mr. Seigline acting as the answer box, when it was equipment that had to be explained.

PROHIBITION BECOMES HARDING'S BIG PROBLEM

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Nov. 28.—Prohibition and how to enforce it, engaged the attention of President Harding and his cabinet today.

From being a relatively minor problem a month ago, the difficulties presented by adequate enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law, have suddenly assumed paramount importance in the minds of the president and his advisers and will be dealt with at some length in Mr. Harding's forthcoming message to the regular session of the Sixty-Seventh Congress starting next Monday.

NORRIS SET DRAFTING CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Nov. 28.—The first direct step was taken today toward amending the United States constitution in order to do away with the four months' interim between the time of the election of a new congress and the date of its coming into power. The senate agriculture committee unanimously approved such a constitutional amendment and ordered Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, to draft the measure, with a recommendation that it be enacted into law.

HAYNES CONFERS ON PHILA. "LIQUOR SCANDAL."

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Nov. 28.—Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes returned to Washington today and immediately went into conference with John T. Haynes, it was said, may join with Secretary of the Navy Denby in ordering a special inquiry after he receives a complete report from Director Davis.

She will leave this afternoon for New York to take the girl home with her.

Argentina's Favorite Horse. Renowned among turf followers the world over, was the racehorse Botafogo, the darling of the Argentine stud. Though only eight years old, he died recently at Mar del Plata. Not particularly fortunate in his parentage, as great racers usually are, he nevertheless became a phenomenon of the track. At two years he sold for $25,000 at auction, although he was never good looking. When he raced the horse stretched himself out like a greyhound. He made his debut in 1917, and all the classics fell before his amazing speed. One day when he was not in form and lost to Gray Fox, the event was regarded in Argentina as quite a national catastrophe. In a subsequent "revenge race" he defeated his conqueror with perfect ease before the greatest crowd that ever assembled at the Palermo tracks.

Scientists Baffled. What do the eye spots on butterflies' wings mean? The naturalists say, frankly: "We do not know." It is thought that these eye spots may have some utilitarian application. They form one of the most intricate of all natural designs. The fact that butterflies have been captured with their eye spots pierced, as if from the attack of birds, has been used as an argument in favor of the view that they must be "protective markings," imitating eyes because birds strike at the eyes of their victims. But this suggestion is hardly regarded as satisfactory. Among butterflies the most striking examples of eye spots are found on the underside of the wings.

Whale's Hopeless Fight. There are many instances recorded of the giant sperm whale being taken and devoured by some colossal sea creature. In 1875 the officers and crew of the barque Pauline, whilst sailing in the Indian ocean, noticed three sperm whales upon the surface of the water. "Suddenly an enormous serpent-looking creature appeared amongst them. It seized the largest of the whales in its sinuous coils and a furious battle ensued. One of the ribs of the unfortunate whale was distinctly heard to crack. The fight lasted about a quarter of an hour, when the monster disappeared below the waves with its victim."

The Harassed Salesman. This pathetic letter recently reached a large business house in Rochester, New York. It came from one of the firm's salesmen who was traveling in the West. Do you suppose he ever got his check at all, and if so, how? The letter ran: "Where did I tell you to send my check for this week? I didn't keep a copy of my letter, so I don't know where you were to send it, but wherever it was to be sent, please send it there at once; only, how am I to know where it is so I can go there and get it, as I leave this town tonight and don't know where I will be next?"—Youth's Companion.

WHISKEY FLEET CRUISES OFF-SHORE

Looks to Elude American "Dry Navy" With $3,000,000 Worth of Choice Liquors to Quench Holiday Thirst—Is Not Advance Guard.

New York, Nov. 28.—Eight schooners laden with liquor valued at $3,000,000 at bootleg prices, are standing off the New York and New Jersey coast today, waiting to be unloaded by "fleet blockade runners" which will try to land the contraband without arousing the vigilance of the prohibition navy.

This is part of $10,000,000 shipments of liquors from Great Britain, the Bahamas and Miquelon Island to satisfy the American "holiday trade." The "bootleg syndicate" has begun to resent the trickery of the whiskey gents in the Bahamas who were so swamped with orders from the United States that they began to substitute fake whiskey, brandy and wines for the real stuff. Orders are being withdrawn from the Bahamas and shifted to Scotland.

Frank J. Bell of the prohibition enforcement department, said that the department of justice is not off the New York and New Jersey coasts but could do nothing to stop the "blockade runners" got the three mile limit and attempted to slip by the patrolling dry navy.

Mr. Hale said that all the rum runners were armed and were manned by crews as desperate as those that sailed the Spanish main in the days of the blue jays. They would not hesitate to battle if the dry navy attempted to seize their cargoes at the high seas.

Grandmother "In End"

Mildred called Patty her grandmother, for, as she explained, her own was in heaven. And she and Patty's grandmother were good friends until one day the grandmother was cross. She scolded the two little girls for leaving the screen door open, for walking in a flower bed and dropping crumbs on the floor. The two youngsters sought refuge on the porch. Grandmother started to follow them there a little later, to try to nuke up. She realized the necessity of doing so, for when she reached the door she heard Mildred say, "Patty, I wish your grandmother was visiting my grandmother today."

He Saw Her Finish

In the early days of the Canadian West a Scotsman named Duncan MacArthur and his wife Jane ranched a tract of land about forty miles west of the steel town of Verona. Duncan was a just master at the national accomplishment and on market days always returned home gloriously drunk. Jane's schemes to convert him at ways failed, but in desperation she tried one more. On market day she said, "Duncan, every time you take a drink today I'm going to take one too." The incorrigible Duncan replied, "Then you'll be guide and drunk by six o'clock, Mrs. MacArthur."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Founded First Medical School

According to a Greek legend, the founder of the first medical school was Chiron, the Centaur. Aesculapius was the only one of his many pupils who equaled the master. He studied the curative properties of plants and the treatment of diseases and wounds. If one can believe Homer, the two sons of Aesculapius, Machon and Podalyer, organized the first army medical corps, which functioned during the siege of Troy. Greece made demigods of her scientists and doctors, and the blind remarks that a physician "is worth many men."

MILK GOES UP ONE CENT A QUART

The Dairyman's League report shows an advance in the price of milk for the month of December, there being an addition of one cent per quart in bottled milk, making the price for Kingston 15 cents per quart and 8 cents per pint. The local wholesale price is also advanced 1 cent a quart.

The forty-quart can price at the station is advanced 80 cents, or two cents a quart. The price of milk for cheese is 40 cents more than the butter price. Price of milk used in butter will be governed by what butter sells for during the month of December.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Nov. 28.—The stock market was active and buoyant at the opening today, gains of from 1 to 3 points being general in the standard shares. Steel Common, selling ex-dividend 1 1/4 per cent, more than recovered this dividend, selling at 100 1/4, an upturn of 1 1/4. Baldwin rose 1 1/2 to 114 1/2. The Standard Oil shares were strong, California improving two points and New Jersey more than 3 points. New York Central led the improvement in the railroads, advancing 1 1/2 to 92. The market maintained its strength during the forenoon.

The list made further progress during the afternoon when stocks generally showed gains ranging from 1 to 9 points.

The market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds strong.

TIERNAN HOUSEHOLD REMAINS RECONCILED

A. Telegram to The Freeman.
South Bend, Ind., Nov. 28.—Calm—the calm of exhaustion—reigned in the Tiernan household today.

For thirty-six hours Prof. John P. Tiernan and his wife, Augusta, have been "reconciled."

They are living together as happily as could be expected—under the circumstances—and waiting developments. Neither of them seems to know just what to do.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Blanche Brimmer-Tiernan, the professor's illegal bride of a day, is at Marshalltown, Iowa, where it was reported an investigation is being made to show she was not a bigamist in marrying Tiernan.

The romantic professor denied he intended to go to Blanche. His present plans are to remain with "Gussie."

The Tiernans, it was said, will remain here until Friday when they will sell their household goods and move to Chicago "to start all over again."

USHERS' CLUB WILL HOLD MINSTREL SHOW FRIDAY.

Friday evening at 8 o'clock the Ushers' Club of the Rondout Presbyterian Church will present an entertainment in the Sunday school rooms. A small admission fee will be charged and at the close of the entertainment ice cream will be on sale.

The first part of the program will be given entirely by the young men of the church and will include wholesome fun and lots of good songs. Dr. C. H. Bishop has been faithfully training the young men in the singing.

The second part of the program will be in charge of Miss Virginia Log Kamp. The program will be published later.

The tickets for the entertainment can be secured from any of the young men of the church, members of the Sunday school or at the door the evening of the entertainment.

POULTRY

GROUND GRAIN IS ESSENTIAL

Less Work is Required of the Gizzard and More Food Can Be Used for Flesh and Eggs.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Feeding Grain to the Farm Flock.

Putting on growth or producing eggs cannot assimilate enough nutrient from whole or cracked grains to supply the maximum need. When the grain is ground, little work is required of the gizzard, and much more of the feed can be used in making flesh or eggs.

The scratch grain part of the ration, however, is needed to give the gizzard something to do in order to keep the birds in health. For laying hens the scratch grain thrown in the litter provides an incentive to needed exercise.

It was once thought that the mash should be fed wet to produce the best results, but experiments have proved that in spite of the slightly better palatability of the wet feed, the convenience of feeding it dry overbalances any slight gain in production. Feeding it dry is now the usual method. Digestibility is not increased by wetting.

The principal objection to the wet mash is that it requires too much labor. It must be moistened, then carried to the hens once a day, and the troughs must be cleaned after each feeding. Cleanliness is absolutely essential, because indigestion and diarrhea will result from feeding in dirty troughs. On the other hand, the dry mash hopper may be filled once a week or even less frequently, and needs no further attention. Hens do not overeat of dry mash as they sometimes do of wet feed.

PROPER SIZE OF HEN FLOCK

Number Which Can Be Kept Most Efficiently Will Depend Upon Space Available.

The size of the flock which can be kept most efficiently will depend upon the space available and upon the amount of table scraps and other waste available for feed. It is a mistake to overstock your land, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Better results will be obtained from a few hens in a small yard than from a large number. The back-yard flock rarely should consist of more than 20 or 25 hens, and often of not more than eight or ten. For 20 or 25 hens you should have a yard 25 by 30 feet in size.

POULTRY NOTES

A constant supply of broken charcoal makes a good digestive regulator.

Don't keep meat scraps in a warm, moist place.

The best medicine for poultry of any age is good care.

The floor of the poultry house should be dry. It should always be well bedded with straw.

A platform under the roosts keeps the floor clean and increases the capacity of the house.

Old stone piles which are a breeding place for wassels are dangerous to the poultryman's profit.

Look out also for moldy wheat or grain mash of any kind left in the bottom of the hopper. This will quickly kill.

When selecting breeding cockerels, choose the birds that matured early and show bright intelligent heads with short bills.

Patch the leaky poultry house roofs. This will improve the condition of the litter in the houses and help to prevent colds and roup.

Isolate the first hen that shows signs of a cold and it will help to prevent other cases. Place the sick bird where she will not be forgotten and neglected at feeding time.

Vague Prospect.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

The funeral of David McClure was held Monday morning from the late residence, No. 96 Prince street, at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 o'clock from St. Mary's Church, where a solemn Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. George Pagan as celebrant, the Rev. Joseph B. Scully, deacon and the Rev. John P. Duffy, sub-deacon. During the offertory Miss Loretta C. Neiter sang "Pie Jesu" and at the conclusion Joseph L. Murphy rendered "Thy Will Be Done." The funeral cortege was very large and the floral tributes were many and beautiful, showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The casket bearers were members of the Christoforo Colombo Society. The interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery.

The funeral of Charles Mullen, who died Saturday at his home in New Paltz, in the 60th year of his age, was held this morning at St. Mary's Church, Saugerties, where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Martin O'Garra. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery, Saugerties.

William Ferguson, who died at Cornetown, N. Y., Monday, was the son of the late Michael and Julia Ryan Ferguson of this city. He is survived by three brothers, James, Andrew and John and one sister, Mary, wife of Anthony Gallagher. The remains were brought to the home of his sister, No. 192 Foxhall avenue, this afternoon. Funeral arrangements later.

The funeral of John B. Yunker was held this morning from his late residence, No. 135 Abel street, at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 o'clock from St. Peter's Church, where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. John F. Duffy. The funeral cortege was very large and the floral tributes were many and beautiful. Interment was in the family plot in St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale.

The funeral of Mrs. Julius Engel was held from her late home, 25 East Union street, Saturday morning at 8 o'clock and at 8:30 o'clock from St. Peter's Church, where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Joseph D. Ostermann. Interment in St. Peter's cemetery. The Rev. John P. Neumann accompanied the funeral and conducted the committal service.

The funeral of Frederick Grimm was held this morning from the late residence at Hickorybush at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 o'clock from St. Peter's Church, Rosendale, where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Edward Higgins. The bearers were Frank Foster, Joseph Mooney, Owen Mooney, Augustus Trendel, Edward McKee and Raymond Stansbury. The interment was in the family plot in St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale.

The body of Peter Longtong, who was drowned from his boat some time ago at Cementon, was identified by his parents at Tirol, where it was found Friday, and was brought to Kingston where it was interred in St. Mary's cemetery Saturday afternoon. He is survived by two daughters, Agnes Bridge and Maria Dot-

Good Indications of Oil in Bolivia.
A company has been organized recently for the purpose of exploiting the petroleum deposits said to exist near Cochabamba, Bolivia. It is reported that numerous indications of petroleum have been found in the vicinity of Cercado and of Quillacollo, including readily inflammable gases emanating from two wells in the locality. Favorable reports on this section have been previously made by geologists.

BORGMAN STILL LEADING SCORER

Kingston Team Also Has Best Record—Locals Begin Second Round Playing Cobles and Troy On Home Court.

At a meeting at Schenectady Sunday of the New York State Basketball directors it was decided that players using profane language on the court would be fined and a continuance of the abusive talk would mean ejection from the game. It was also decided that the recess between halves would not be longer than ten minutes.

With one-third of the games played in the opening league race, the local representatives have a good start with nine won and one lost. That the Kingston team is the right full leader is shown in the team records. Benny Borgman is still leading in the individual records with an average of 11 points for nine games. Borgman made 33 field goals and 38 foul points. Friedman of Albany and Boyle of Troy and Norman of Schenectady are nearest to Borgman in individual scoring with a record of 8 points a game.

Starting on the second round of the first half competition, the Morkeewick team will engage at the local armory court on Wednesday evening the Cobles and Troy and the following evening the Troy squad will furnish the opposition.

HOWARD TALKS TO FARM BUREAU

Prohibition was pointed out as a saving factor in agricultural depression by J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, speaking at the joint annual meeting of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation and the New York State Home Bureau Federation in Syracuse November 22.

Mr. Howard said with producers and sugar beet and fruit growers have been greatly benefited by the eighteenth amendment, while grain farmers have not suffered because of it for Cuban black strap classes had usurped the machinery market before prohibition became effective.

"All classes of agriculture have benefited," said Mr. Howard, "but the greatest benefit is in the improved standards of living of the people. We farmers must take a firm stand on this question whenever it may arise, and we want to stress the economic as well as the moral side."

Mr. Howard was given a big ovation by the four hundred farm men and women who were present to hear him speak. Discussing in an informal manner some of the nation's problems of agriculture he declared that he saw with misgiving farmers having recourse to legislation to cure evils which could be cured only by the working out of economic laws.

Immigration was singled out by Mr. Howard as one of the big national questions affecting agriculture for congress to consider. He said restricted immigration had resulted in a shortage of labor on the farms.

Another main problem cited by the speaker was increasing spread in costs between country and city. He pointed out that while general commodity prices increased 25 points from September, 1921, to September, 1922, farm prices increased only one point, indicating the farmer is paying highly for what he buys while his own prices are not recovering.

While Mr. Howard expressed belief that the ultimate future of the farming industry was assured, he declared he was not so certain the immediate future would bring better times. The disease which has afflicted agriculture originated across the seas, he declared, and as long as Europe is in turmoil complete restoration cannot be expected.

Mr. Howard congratulated the New York State Farm Bureau Federation on their safe and sane program. "You have kept a good educational and community development program," he said, "and that is what the Farm Bureau is for."

FACTORY EARNINGS STAY ABOUT SAME IN OCT.

By Telegraph to the Freeman.

Albany, Nov. 28.—The average weekly earnings of factory workers in New York state were $25.61 in October. This was a reduction of 10 cents as compared with September. The largest decrease during the month, that of over $4.00 in the railway repair shops, was due to shorter working time, following the settlement of the strike and the return of working forces to near normal, as compared with the very long shifts that were in force in some of the shops in September. If the car shops are eliminated, the average earnings for all other industries in October were the same as those for September. The statement was issued yesterday by the industrial commissioner.
